WHEN A MAN'S A MAN FOR A THAT

It took such a gathering as that of last night to bring home live hills and resolutions directed forcibly to the modern desert develor the great mosaic that has mainet Japanese and resulting from been wrought from a composite of all classes and conditions of humanity. It is not remarkable that the good, bad and indifferent good name of the Japanese empire. elements should have been mixed when the world opened the grand rush to the site of Jim Cartler's find in the heart of the is quoted as saying the agitation is wilderness. That was what would have been expected anywhere engineered for purposes of American and under like direcusstances. The paradoxi al feature is the to do with racial prejudices. The human interest and of the story which remains after the ups and Nichi Nichi disagrees with Mr. Burdowns of almost two decades during which rich men became poor, poor men be an earth and man, of the sich toppled from their part in these agitations with the high estates to revert to the muck stock as the basic element of danger of imperilling the friendly frateracty in this mad struggle to master the mines of creation. Never was there a more democratic bon h than that which crooked its knees ander the pine lables of Odd Fellows hall last evening. without any regard to caste or class poverty, aspirations or unfilled hopes. The planeers of 1001 did not give a thought to an class distinction and the man with a willingness to work was always your ter differ and of anything on two feet that strutted the desert. Last might suppose my saw this principal emphasized when the old timers say down in their digging clothes to recount experiences of ninetonic years agos but had a less serious turn today than at that time, when a few its are meant the difference between that too little attention has been paid to contemporaneous history and no effort has been made to treasure the reminiscences of the of the Battlebare state. The Nevada Historical society has never) received the support to which it was entitled from the many legis created many as aching void in history would have been bridged and the rising generation would have been much wiser. Thanks to the gentlemen whose far-seeing wision arranged this meeting of the Tonorah pomeers, the principal talks and many of the side lights were preserved through the activity of an official stoneg rapher whose pen immortalized numerous hitherto unheard of scones and caught the pathos of several incidents that will throw interesting light on several angles of disputed local events

RE-MAKING RAILROAD MAPS

Down in the heart of Imperior valley, Armistice day was cele brated by a group of public spirited citizens going forth and engaging in the diversion of driving a golden spike to signalize complet or of the San Diego & Actions railroad, which brings the southern gateway, closer to the rest of the nation by 400 miles than it was the day before. The construction of this railroad which was reconstrul by John D. Spreckels as one of the many instrumentalities, for largering San Diego out of the bondage of the Santa Fe ownership was bitterly fought by every combination my to the current states meant bringing San Diego from the small town class to the position of a suspert with a recognized back it will draw for connect and also draw upon for shipments to feed the grout fleets of liners which soon will line its docks, budding for the crops of Arizona, the whole southern delta country and Lower California, the province benignly swaved by Governor Canto, and Parrying from eastern manufacturner restors and from European marts the products consumed in these districts. Through operation of this short belt of railroad San Diego is given a direct outlet for freight from an empire which will be benefited to the extent of not having to pay for 300 or 400 miles useless hauling for delivering staples to the ship's side. The greatest advantage to San Diego will be in the impetus given direct to tourist travel which will pour into the pretty southern city at a rate undreamed of before. Under existing arrangement every tourist thinking of visiting San Diego is ditched at Los Angeles, where he is plied with false information that usually deters him from continuing to his destination. Or the visitor becomes attracted to some likely-looking bungalow offered by oily tongued agents and concludes to cut off the San Diego end of his trip. Los Angeles has profited to the extent of millions by simply diverting tourists intending to visit San Diego and taking them into camp on some inferior real estate proposition in the suburbs of Los Angeles. With a direct railroad connection the tourists will be routed to their destination and not compelled to run the gauntlet of the real estate sharks who have grown rich back-capping San Diego.

The democratic party would have been dead fifty years ago except for the practically unanimous support of the Irish vote, and yet John Sharpe Williams, administration spokesman, gets up in the senate and onlis the Irish a bunch of white-livered, yellowbacked cowards.

The Mohammedans, an American missionary organization proudly announces, have elected Mr. Wilson a prophet. Well, he is a prophet, isn't he? Didn't he tell us a few days before the election of 1916 that the election of Hughes meant war while his own election would be a guarantee of perpetual peace?

Kentucky swung into the republican column with a victory for Edwin Morrow for governor by 20,000 votes. And there is no Goebel to count out the winner this time.

FORMER AUSTRIAN EMBASSY TO BE SOLD

(Correspondence Associated Press) PARIS, Oct 15.- The sumption former Austrian embassy in Paris, known as the Galliera palace, is for sale, as the present impoverished 000 Belgian refugees who fied to Austrian government can no longer this country during the war, the afford its upkeep. The employed uilding, where Austrian princes used o entertain royally, is situated on ne Due de Varenne, on the south side of the river Seine, and boasts lend or France. To care for Helthe-inst private park that is worthy of the name, in the French capital Baron von Lersner, the German charge d'affairs, and his staff, have ust rone into furnished apartments the more fashionable part of the hamp de Mars quarter. Germany is keeping on her luxuriously ap cinted ambassadorial home on the tue de Lille for at last anothe here so the length of imparing the yar, when the Germans expect this i tuil ambassador will again repreout trem in Paris.
